

PLASMA as CO₂-GANS produced in RAVNE-Tunnel

In September 2017, for the first time ever, a plasma experiment for producing CO₂ GANS took place in the RAVNE-Tunnels - successfully executed by plasma scientist Rudi Lerch from Munich/Germany.

A short summary about plasma science:

Plasma science describes amongst other things the condition of a happening, before the emergence of matter. If two or more magnetic fields interact together, a plasma emerges. If two or more plasmas interact together emerges matter, also known as matter which had its origin in the magnetic fields. Our thoughts are likewise from electromagnetic nature - thus we create, through the magnetic fields of our thoughts, matter as well as their consistency.

A short summary of what GANS is:

It's a new state of matter, a kind of molecular cloud of gas (Gas), which transforms into Nano hardness and appears as a Solid state of matter (GAs to Nano of Solid). Each little GANS, phenotypic like a spehere, is like a little sun. It is free and able to emit highly stronger fields than any other matter state, it is continously giving and receiving fields. GANS is a plasma

The plasma experiment:

On Tuesday September the 19th 2017 at 19:30, two jars have been filled up with a 10% rock salt solution and special nano coated devices (copper wool nanocoated with thouthands of layers, and a zinc plate). Nanolayers are the joinder to the magnetic fields - the converter and connection to all the fields in the environment around us.

After the installation of the devices, the two jars have been put obversed of the eggshaped megalith, uninterrupted over night behind the wooden wall (see pictures). After 14 hours a centimeter thick layer of CO₂ and Zinc GANS formed on the bottom of the jars (CO₂ ca. 10% and ca. 90 % zinc).

In

position during the night

best harvest next day

These two GANS productions have a special equilibrative impact on the fields of the soul (ZINK- GANS) and human emotions (CO2-GANS). Plasma always seeks balance.

CO2 -and Zinc GANS from RAVNE-Tunnel.

Humidity 76 % by 12,6 degrees.

Water infused with the plasma fields of these GANS becomes liquid plasma itself. Contrary to the usual knowledge of water, which is from a rather volatile nature, this GANS infused water stores these plasmas forever.

In other words, all fields and energies of the tunnel, which have been present at the forming of the GANS, are forever stored in the water. Every GANS contains the fields of its corresponding surroundings.

The environment of the RAVNE-Tunnels features some truly unique qualities. For example a prehistorical, perfectly safe and protected space: no internet-WI-FI signal (2,4 GHZ) same as microwave; no phone signal (0,9 GHZ); no harmful cosmic radiation; no natural radioactivity; no negative underground water energy; no harmful intersection energy and the very healthy fields of highly concentrated Negative-Ions, which are in constant connection with this very unique GANS material. These GANS that are reduced emit all these energy qualities.

Further tests will disclose how this „RAVNE-Liquid-Plasma“ influences humans, animals and plants. First reports will be released at spring-time 2018.

Many thanks to Dr. Sam Osmanagich, who has given us the Bosnian Pyramids for free and

Many thanks to Mr. M.T. Keshe and his foundation, who has given us his free science knowledge about the world of plasma.

Written by Rudi Lerch,